And so it begins. Yet I don't feel rushed into it. This year we've had the joy of an extended Epiphanytide. We've had time to decompress after Christmas and prepare for this season of fasting, prayer, almsgiving, and acts of mercy. We enter Lent with purpose. We begin our journey with intentionality.

I am especially excited about the wonderful Lenten discipline provided for us by our outreach and mission committee, Matthew 25:40. The Giving Tree, about which you can read more inside, is an excellent tool to help us step outside ourselves and look out into the desert places in life that need our attention and God's grace.

This summer I had the joy of sitting in and walking through the wilderness of Jesus. I prayed, alone, out in the desert. I visited the place where the Church remembers his temptation. Jesus' wilderness isn't filled with trees and undergrowth, which make it difficult for one to find the way. Jesus' wilderness is a desert with grand vistas, in which we can clearly see the way, though traveling it will remain difficult and trying. In the high places, one can gain perspective on the road that lies ahead.

May Lent be a time to gain perspective, discover the Way, and move out with joy.

Pax et bonum, David +

Where faith embraces reason and tradition

St. MARY'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

From the Assistant to the Rector

LOST BOYS ARE NOW FOUND!

WELCOMING OUR SUDANESE BROTHERS AND SISTERS!

I recently had the joy and privilege of worshiping with Malaak Juuk, Wel Jok and several Sudanese families who meet every Sunday afternoon at 2.00 P.M. in the Saint Mary's chapel. These Sudanese brothers and sisters of ours are from the Dinka tribe and speak Dinka. I could not understand what they were saying, but I could see faith as they poured out their hearts to God. I was invited to speak in English, and share some of the reasons I am so passionately committed to reaching out to people from all nations with the Good News of God's love in Jesus Christ. Malaak periodically attends the 11.00 A.M. Holy Eucharist at Saint Mary's and was present with several other Sudanese at my ordination service; this was a great honor for me. Our Episcopal Sudanese congregation began meeting at Saint Mary's on September 9th, 2005; they expressed their thanks to me. It is wonderful for them to be able to worship in safety after the harrowing experiences these Lost Boys of the Sudan endured in their country. Elizabeth, another member of the Sudanese congregation, now attends Mike Kerkado's English as a Second Language class at Saint Mary's!

WHO ARE THE LOST BOYS OF THE SUDAN? The Lost Boys of Sudan comprise 27,000 boys of the Nuer and Dinka ethnic groups who were orphaned or separated from their families when Moslem government troops from the North systematically attacked Christian villages in southern Sudan. Two million people were killed in this Second Sudanese Civil War lasting twenty-two long years, from 1983 until 2005. So many younger boys were able to survive the government attacks on the villages because they were away tending herds, or escaped into the nearby jungles. Huge groups of these orphaned boys walked together for thousands of miles across borders to international relief camps in Ethiopia and Kenya. Many of these brave children died of thirst or starvation. They were attacked by wild animals and insects, and ravaged by disease in one of the bloodiest wars of the 20th century. Relatively few girls made it to the refugee camps, for they were raped, killed or taken to the north as slaves. In 2001, about 3,800 Lost Boys were brought to the United States, and sent to about thirty-eight different cities; Omaha, Nebraska, has the most Lost Boys, about 7,000 people. There are many Sudanese living in High Point and the Greensboro area; Wel and Malaak are both "Lost Boys." Sadly, there are about 17,000 Lost Boys still living in refugee camps.

HOW ARE THERE EPISCOPALIANS IN THE SUDAN? An English pioneer missionary, Archibald Shaw (8 June 1879 – 1956) went in 1905 to Southern Sudan to share the Gospel with the Dinka people under the auspices of the Church Missionary Society (CMS). Shaw lived in a village and built a small school; in ten years of ministry, not one Dinka was baptized! Shaw focused on translating and distributing the Bible, and produced the Dinka Prayer Book. Archibald also wrote a Reading Primer, a hygiene book, and a 14 page manuscript called "Travel by Land," which the Department of Education used in schools. In 1935, Shaw baptized one person, Joe Aroor who went to school; through the life and witness of this one person, the Episcopal Church was started in the Sudan! Archibald Shaw died in 1956, but in 1978 the Episcopal Church began to grow and there were many conversions and spiritual revivals. Do not ever be discouraged by low numbers if you teach a Christian Education Class! Through one person, you can reach many! Our job is to be faithful in our teaching and lives.

We Need You!

Christian Formation Leaders Come in all shapes, sizes, and ages. As we move forward in our planning for fall 2011 we need you, all of you, to step up to the plate and be a part of helping to form your fellow younger member's walk with Jesus. I can promise you an experience of a lifetime. I can promise personal growth, and I can promise training and a wonderful curriculum no matter what age you might choose. There is a place for all, whether you have children in the programs or not.

In the fall of 2011 we will be re-structuring our program slightly to offer a Pre-Kindergarten class for Three and Four Year Olds. This will mean we need more staff. We will still offer two Godly Play Classes, one for K-2 and one for Grades 3-5. We will also be offering our Middle and High School Program for Grades 6-12.

My friend Sharon Person, from Church Publishing defines a teacher as the following:

The Teacher Is . . .

- A listener who is attentive enough to hear what the learners say, who is aware of what is unsaid, who responds without judgments that stifle, and who knows how to wait upon God.
- A translator who puts the words of the church into language that is understandable and images that are recognizable to the learners. "What is the meaning?" is the foremost question.
- A custom designer who tailors the curriculum for a specific moment to fit a specific group of learners by being aware of their interests, skills, and experiences, and by planning and organizing their time together.
- A pacesetter who provides a setting and an opportunity to learn within a trusting and respecting community of explorers that cares for and accepts one another, who presents something to pique the learners' curiosity and stir up their questions.

Please look at the opportunities below and e-mail me and let me know for which block you will volunteer for the school year 2011-2012. Your gifts and talents are needed by the younger members of St. Mary's. Come spread the Good News! In His Service, Don Carlson

Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper

Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper
Sponsored by the iMission Youth Team
March 8, 2011 - 6:00 – 8:00pm

All funds raised will go towards our 1st Annual Summer Youth Mission trip. This year we are headed to Rocky Mount, North Carolina

In keeping with the ancient custom of using up all the sweets and fats before the beginning of the Lenten fast, we eat pancakes on Shrove Tuesday. Pancakes conveniently require sugar, butter, eggs, milk, and enriched flour – none of which can be eaten in any great quantity during the fast.

The name for this Tuesday before the beginning of Lent comes from the Old English word shrive, a word synonymous with forgiven. It was the tradition of the church that people would make a final confession before the beginning of this penitential season. After which, they were said to have been shriven.

Pandamania!

This year St. Mary's will be holding its own Vacation Bible School the end of June: Pandamania, "Where God is Wild About You!" We will be offering a program for children currently three (potty-trained) through grade 5. Older youth will have the opportunity to serve as counselors and enrich their faith. We need lots of parental support and parish wide support, so start thinking of where and how you can volunteer!

To put on a program of this level of excellence it does cost money. We do have some program monies, but not enough to provide the program we hope to. If you would like to be a financial sponsor of VBS 2011, please send your financial contributions to Don Carlson and mark them VBS Gifts 2011.

We are really excited about this upcoming outreach program and hope you will mark your calendars!

30 Hour Famine

March 18-19, 2011 at First Presbyterian Church
High Point, NC 27262 - (336) 884-2248
In conjunction with over 10 other area churches!

What Is The Famine?

It's not your average group activity. This one saves lives. Nearly 8,000 kids die each day because of hunger. Some starve. Some get sick and their hungry bodies are too weak to fight. Either way, the result is the same. Another child dies every 10 seconds. You can do something about it. You can band together with students and youth groups all over the world to fight hunger. Save lives. Write a different story for the planet. Just imagine. We could be the generation who banished hunger to the history books.

So what exactly is the 30 Hour Famine? Students around the world loving God and fighting hunger. It's that simple. Every year, hundreds of thousands of students do the Famine. They go without food for 30 hours. They learn what it takes to stop hunger in its tracks. They raise funds to help feed and care for tens of thousands of kids all over the world. And because the 30 Hour Famine is powered by World Vision, you're not just feeding kids for a day. You're helping them overcome poverty for a lifetime.

Youth, Grade 6-12 will be asking for sponsorship as we raise money for Famine Awareness. Please consider sponsoring one of our parish's young people.

Burrito Bikers Mission Project

Join us as we assemble Burrito's for the Homeless of Greensboro!

Meet at St. Mary's at 7:30am

March Youth Group Dates

March 13 & March 27 – 4:00 – 6:00pm in the Little House.

Ash Wednesday - March 9

Ash Wednesday is the beginning of the Church season of Lent. On Ash Wednesday we gather in penitence and are marked with ashes as a reminder of our mortality. Our journey to Easter begins, and through introspection, prayer, almsgiving, and works of mercy, we rediscover Christ lifting us up from the dirt and ashes and giving us places in his eternal kingdom.

Imposition of Ashes and Holy Eucharist

12:00 p.m. – Chapel

4:00 p.m. – Children's Chapel
(esp. appropriate for families)

7:30 p.m. – Church with organ and choir

The Lost Boys...continued

EXCITING NEWS: You may have heard the exciting news that the Southern Sudanese voted almost unanimously in a mostly peaceful referendum in January 2011, to secede from the North. This is a wonderful answer to the fervent prayers of thousands of the Lost Boys, including the congregation who meets at Saint Mary's. Many of them traveled up to Washington, D.C. in January to vote. July 9th 2011, will be their new country's independence day! I hope we can plan here at Saint Mary's to celebrate with our dear brothers and sisters in Christ who have suffered so much for their faith. Let us pray meanwhile for a peaceful transition to an independent government; the South is rich in oil, and this could cause problems with the Northern government.

P.S. Apologies for my overly long article in the February Herald. Page 4 should have been deleted!

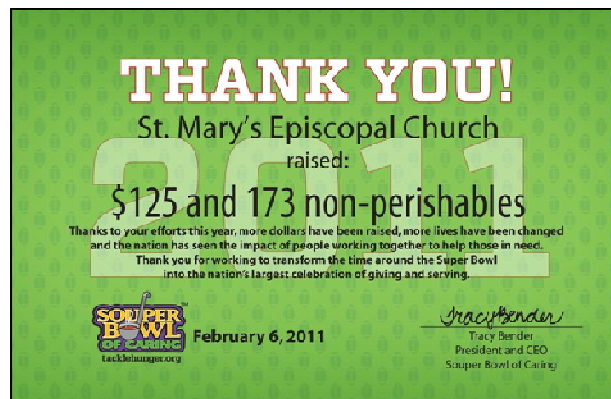

If you have had a change of address, phone number and/or e-mail address, please notify the office so we can ensure that you receive all publications. Thank you!

Latino Family Center Open House

All church members are invited to an Open House at the Latino Family Center on Sunday, March 6. Drop by 10:00am - 2:00pm. Come meet the families, staff, volunteers, and board members and find out about what we do and who we help.

Latino Family Mission Statement

The mission of the Latino Family Center is to improve the quality of life and to promote community participation of Latinos living in the Greater High Point area by providing educational, health, social and cultural services and activities.

Give up Giving Up

Have you given up something every Lenten season in the past? Most of us have. Or at least we have tried. This year we invite you to Give Up Giving Up! Instead of giving up something, we hope you will consider Taking On something during the Lenten Season.

Read Matthew 25:35-36. Once a week during Lent choose an opportunity to assist someone in our community. "What could I possibly do for a couple of hours that could help someone?" you ask. Why not try out a number of different things...perhaps you will dare to try something you have never done before. The Matthew 25:40 committee has put together numerous opportunities from which you may choose. Each opportunity will be attached to a Giving Tree. Select one opportunity; do it; complete it within that week. Return it to the Completed Gift Bowl and select another from the tree for the next week. The impact that St. Mary's will have within our community will be wonderful. Give up giving up. Take on giving to someone else.

United Thank Offering

The first UTO was in 1889. Women were inspired to pray and give coins toward a new church in Alaska and to send Miss Lisa Lowell as a missionary to Japan. Read between the lines of this simple historical statement. Women had no positions of authority in the church. One place a woman could serve with some autonomy was in the mission field. It is no accident that women's groups became so supportive of mission work. And note the word coins. Women usually had only coins to give.

The UTO founders came up with the idea of connecting a coin with a prayer, thereby expanding its power. Small blue cardboard boxes were distributed. Whenever one felt thankful for any blessing, into the box went a coin. Later at St. Mary's the box was replaced by a blue envelope handed out on the Sundays (twice a year).

The governing body is the UTO Committee with representatives from all nine provinces of the Episcopal Church. The committee receives requests for grants and awards the grants. There are explicit guidelines for these awards. Mainly the important word is mission, a response to a compelling human need. The proposed project must have a one year funding budget. - Colleen Hartsoe

Table Fellowship

Who Are Those People I Worship With Each Sunday? To find the answer to that question, join Table Fellowships. The purpose of Table Fellowship is to provide a social time for members of St. Mary's who want to get to know their fellow parishioners. Groups meet for dinner once a month, hosted in turn by group members, with each participant contributing a part of the meal. The focus is on enjoying the company of fellow St. Marians. It is not necessary to be able to host; a commitment to faithful attendance is the only requirement.

Please join us in the common room on March 6th after the 11 am service for a sandwich lunch as we organize new groups. All adult members of St. Mary's are invited to participate in Table Fellowships. We are looking at the possibility of organizing groups for singles and groups for young families wanting to include their children. We will try to make a group for anything there is an interest.

For more information please contact Joyce Manning.

ECW General Meeting

St. Mary's ECW will hold its General Meeting and Luncheon on Monday, March 7th at 12 noon in the Parish Hall. The guest speaker will be our own Kitty Montgomery. All women of St. Mary's are invited to attend. The cost of the luncheon is $3.00 per person.

ECW Wine Gala 2011

Save the date! ECW will host the bi-annual Wine Gala on Sunday, May 22nd, at the home of Carroll Ann and Jeff Miller from 5:00 to 7:00 pm. This is a very fun church-wide event, and we hope to have lots of participation. We have determined the recipients for this year's gala proceeds:

Mobile Meals of High Point
St. Mary's Land Development and Building Fund
Operating Funds and Future Projects for St. Mary's ECW

Invitations are in production and will be mailed out in a few weeks. Sponsorships are available:

Angel $50 - 1 gala ticket, 1 raffle ticket
Archangel $100 - 2 gala tickets, 1 raffle ticket
Cherubim $150 - 2 gala tickets, 2 raffle tickets, 1 bottle of wine
Seraphim $250 - 4 gala tickets, 2 raffle tickets, 1 bottle of wine
Individual gala tickets can be purchased for $25, and individual raffle tickets will be $5.

If you want to help out on a specific committee, some people to contact are:

FOOD & SERVING: Alyce Hill, Alicia Hurley (ahill@triad.rr.com, 884-1462)

We have a menu put together, and we simply need help in cooking the food. Alyce and Alicia can provide easy-to-follow recipes.

SILENT AUCTION: Kerie Beth Scott, Alicia Archibald (keriebeth.scott@westchesterccds.org, 887-5427)

Your cast-off is our fortune! An item simply has to be desirable and in sellable shape, no matter how big or small, old or new. You may suggest a recommended value for the bidders' benefit and provide a brief description if your item has an interesting history. Our auction staff will determine the starting bids and increments. It is always fun to guess what the "hot item" will be!

RAFFLE SALES: Mary Darby (marydarby@northstate.net, 889-3581)

We would really like a photographer to record the day, so if someone is interested, please contact Mary Wolff. Keep looking in the e-news for updates on the big event. Stewardship

So, Don Carlson walks up and asks you to help chaperone a youth outing to see some Wake Forest basketball. What do you do? Now remember, this is Wake Forest Basketball in 2010-2011. They've had a tough season so this could be a long afternoon. Well, I'll tell what I did. I came up with an excuse. That's right. You see, my brother and his wife were scheduled to have their third child the week prior to the game. Being a good husband, he had decided to take a week off so my sister-in-law could rest. My brother and I work together so I offered to cover for him on his Saturday shift. I could already see myself coming home after work that Saturday afternoon to a quiet house knowing that my boys wouldn't be back for a couple of hours. Ahhhh. There was only one problem. The baby came on time but after only four days my brother decided he was ready to come back to work. What?!!! And just like that, my quiet afternoon was gone. I packed the boys up and we headed for the church where we found Don readying the van. He let me know that Alicia Archibald was also helping chaperone this trip. Good. Three adults. There's strength in numbers, right? As the young people pile into the van, Don and I assume the shotgun and driver's positions respectively. Alicia, on the other hand, is thrown into the abyss. I crank the van and we're off. I know some of you have never seen that van move but I assure you it does.

At this point my day starts to go in a direction I wasn't expecting. Don starts telling me some of the things he has planned for the youth in the church. From Sunday afternoon youth sessions, to a famine awareness night, to a summer mission trip, the calendar of events is impressive. Everything he describes sounds fun and some things are designed just for that, fun and fellowship. But he really seems to have an appropriate focus on the importance of making our young people understand that they are part of a bigger whole and that their emotional and spiritual contributions are very important. As a parent, I find great comfort in knowing that St. Mary's is blessed to have someone who is so invested in our children.

Well, as we're often told, miracles do happen. We witnessed one that day. You guessed it. Wake Forest won. As our small rag tag band of road warriors headed back to church I felt some mixed emotions. I was happy that I had just spent an afternoon with some great young people including my own two sons. But, there was a twinge of sadness knowing that I had at first been so willing to let this opportunity to spend time with my children pass. I would have also missed out on the chance to see firsthand that the person St. Mary's has entrusted with our young people's spiritual growth is certainly up to the task. So, I'll ask you again: Don Carlson walks up and asks you to help. What do you do? I would urge you to figure out a way to say yes if you can.

I checked the rearview mirror to make sure Alicia, engulfed in a chorus of adolescence, was still ok. And, while thinking about how much of a trouper she was being, I realized that none of this is possible without our young people's participation. If you're a young person reading this, I encourage you to experience as much as you can of what is being offered. If you're a parent of a young person, please try to get them involved, because when they take the time out of their busy lives and spend it with three adults who haven't been cool for over a decade, THAT'S STEWARDSHIP! - Tony Bertschi

Musical Offerings

On Friday, March 25, the Annunciation of Our Lord Jesus Christ to the Blessed Virgin Mary will be observed with Choral Evensong at 6:00p.m. The choir will be heard in one of the most beautiful of Renaissance settings of the Ave Maria, that by the great Josquin des Pres.

Music Academy News

We welcomed a new piano teacher to our staff in January. Emily Abbott Merriam is a native of High Point and recent graduate of UNC Chapel Hill with a Bachelor of Music Degree in Piano Performance. Emily was the valedictorian of her senior class at High Point Christian Academy where she accompanied all the choirs and musicals. She was named a National Merit Scholar and received the Radford University Presidential Scholarship. Emily performed in the Music Academy Faculty Recital on Sunday, February 24.

The Academy has ten piano students who will enter the North Carolina Music Teachers Association's piano-contest on March 12. Each student will perform three musical selections by memory and will be judged by a professional college level music instructor. The students who will perform are: Lindsey Tripp, Katie Quinn, Kira Arrington, Cecelia Bradley, Richard Xio, Sean Curran, Cate Park, Joely Summey, Cecelia Gulley, and Sarah Harney. Their teachers are Dr. Yong Im Federle, Dr. Mun Soo Kim, and Margaret McDonald. Good luck, students!

Academy student Richard Xio was accepted into the All-County Middle School Band and Lindsey Tripp sang in the All-County Honors Chorus. Another student, Kira Arrington, had a lead role in the musical, Sound Of Music, presented by Wesleyan Education Center.

Guitar teacher, Mike Connors, was named Teacher of the Year at Penn-Griffin School for the Arts. He also won the Scottish Harp Society of America's 2010 travel scholarship to tour and study harp in Scotland in the summer of 2011.

OPEN SPACE & TREE INVENTORY

On February 16th, the St. Mary's Environmental Stewardship Committee hosted a speaker and discussion with members of the Guilford County Open Space Committee on the possibility of an inner-city project in High Point. With diverse sectors from the community attending, our rector David Umphlett started the session with a brief history of the Episcopal Church and Public Policy.

Brochures on the Guilford County Open Space Committee are now available on the Environmental Stewardship Resource Table in the Parish Hall.

Also available now are flyers on the upcoming Tree Inventory in High Point and current opportunities to volunteer to identify and count trees in or near your neighborhood in 2011.
